

Finding the Writer in the Teacher

*A Summer Writing Instruction Workshop
Presented by the
Colorado State University Writing Project*

June 19 -23, 2006

8:30 am – 12:00 pm

Cost: $200 (Textbook included)

Registration Deadline: May 31

“In order to teach writing, one needs to be a writer.”

This week long workshop is designed to help teachers develop as writers and devise ways to transfer their new knowledge into their classrooms in order to help students become better writers.

Key Features of the Workshop:

- ❖ Writing Groups – Teachers will write share and revise their own work in small groups which offer support, appreciation and constructive criticism.*
- ❖ Varied Perspectives – Guest Speakers who will share their experiences with writing and teaching writing.*
- ❖ Teaching Groups – Small and large group discussions on how to bring personal writing into the professional world and how to integrate workshop experiences into classroom practices.*

There are only 28 spaces available on a first come, first served basis, so register today!!!

Contact Information:

*Cindy O’Donnell-Allen, CSUWP Director, cindyoa@lamar.colostate.edu, 970-491-5161
Jennifer McDermid, Summer Workshop Director, mcdermidj@thompson.k12.co.us, 970-613-6973
Kim Donegan, Summer Workshop Director, kdonegan@psdschools.com, 970-221-2929 ext. 29*

The Colorado State University Writing Project is part of the National Writing Project endorsed by No Child Left Behind.

*Finding the Teacher in the Writer
Workshop Registration*

June 19-23, 2006

8:30am – 12:00 pm

Name: _____

School: _____

Grades Taught: _____

Content Area(s): _____

Mailing Address:

Phone: _____

E-mail: _____

Please enclose $200 workshop fee (payable to Colorado State University) and mail to the address below by May 31. One hour of CSU graduate credit is available for an additional cost of approximately $60.

*CSUWP Summer Workshops
C/o Cindy O’Donnell-Allen
359 Eddy Hall
Fort Collins, CO
80521-1773*